

Our Big Question for this term is:
"What happens when there is conflict?"

As last term was so short, we have continued exploring our Big Question, "What Happens When There is Conflict?" throughout this week. The children have enjoyed engaging in thoughtful discussions and activities, developing their understanding of conflict, resolution, and the importance of empathy and respect.

As we come to the end of this Big Question, we were very lucky to welcome Azad from Care 4 Calais to Bromstone. Over the course of the morning, he spoke to all children across the school about his experiences as a refugee and how kindness has impacted his life. He shared his personal journey and explained how conflict can affect everyone.

Azad now works for a charity supporting others on a similar journey. He is also an author and has written the children's book Yara's Gift. Azad kindly signed donated copies of his book, which will be shared in classes and placed in the school library for children to enjoy.

Next week, we will launch our final Big Question of the school year: "Is It Better to Adapt or Stay the Same?". This exciting topic will encourage children to think about change, resilience, traditions, and how we respond to the world around us.
